

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A tag (1) equipped with markers (2) and, notably, optical markers that also includes an electronic label (4) that is adhered and that transmits the relative positions of the tools, or other characteristics of the latter, to a measuring system (3) using telecommunication. The confusion between various tags can thus be avoided, and a greater interaction between the measuring system and the tag can be obtained.

Figure 1